Water Borne Commerce May Be Crippled Unless Wages Are Raised.

PREMATURE DEMANDS

Already the marine engineers, firemen, seamen, cooks, waiters and grewards in the transatlantic, Atlantic coast, gulf and great lakes service have been ordered to go on strike on May 1 unless their employers meet the raises in 1 ay, some of which are as high as 60 per cent. Vice President Henry Griffin of the International Seamen's Union of America, which is affiliated with the International Transport Workers Federation, said yesterday that the shipping workers of the principal maritime countries of the world are likely to follow the example set by the Americans.

"Indications are that all nationalities will join in the strike movement after it gets started," said Mr. Griffin vesterday. "This applies particularly to shipping men in Great Britain, Germany. No definite plans have yet been formulated for other countries. Mr. Griffin admitted. It is estimated that there are 500,000 shipping workers in all branches of the International Transport Workers.

Pilots May Join Too.

The strike threatened to begin in the United States, except on the Pacific coast, on May 1 will call out about 40,000 workers. Besides the men engaged in the trades named, Mr. Griffin said that the Masters, Mates and Pilots Association is likely to join the strike, because it has voted to join the American Federation of Labor and the International Transport Workers Federation.
